

This summer... be an Entertainment Ranger at Adventures in Writing Camp!

MISTER LEMUR'S

ADVENTURES IN WRITING CAMP

Who: Energetic teachers who love to be on stage! What: Two week writing camp
Where: Multiple locations
When: June - August (2-week sessions)

Overview:

Inspire and be inspired! Immerse yourself in a world of creativity and music as you foster a love of writing among second through fifth grade campers. Adventures in Writing Camp is a two-week day camp that channels the power of childhood imagination into writing success! The camp's curriculum and lessons guide students through the process of writing, illustrating and creating their own eBook. See the magic of Adventures in Writing Camp for yourself at: <http://www.aiwcamp.com/camp-video/>

Music Ranger:

Adventures in Writing Camp is seeking a creative, zany, musical, and (preferably) credentialed classroom teacher to inspire campers through musical writing instruction. The ideal candidate loves wearing costumes, and probably has an overflowing costume box they wish they could use more often!

As the Music Ranger you will embody the fun, musical culture at camp. You will serve as “director” of daily morning and afternoon assemblies. You will be leading camp sing-alongs as well as teaching writing lessons delivered as songs (with accompanying dance moves!) each day. The ability to sing and dance is a must. The ability to sing and dance well is a bonus! The ideal candidate will also play the guitar. However, being a “ham” is more important than being Slash, Lita Ford, or BB King.

You will be delivering one 50 minute lesson four times (once each to grades 2-5). You will have 30 minutes of morning prep-time, and though we will provide you with music, guitar tabs and a lesson plan to lead your sessions, we will empower you to bring your own personality and interests to these activities and you will experience a personal sense of accomplishment as your campers succeed. A local college student, “Adventure Guide,” will be available to support you during classroom sessions. We anticipate a ratio of approximately 1 teacher to 16-20 students.

The Music Ranger will spend approximately 17 hours leading music based writing activities. The musical ranger's schedule also includes “MC-ing” 5 hours of assembly, 2.5 hours of greeting families at drop-off and pick-up times, 3.5 hours of paid lunch break, 2.5 hours of paid prep time, and 1.5 hours of meetings. The Music Writing Ranger will be on site from 8:15am – 3:15pm.

Compensation: Music Rangers are considered employees, and pay is competitive with other top educational day camps. For the sake of the kids' experience, it is expected that applicants plan to be available all ten days of camp.

About AIW Founders: Adventures in Writing co-founders Hans and Jennifer Hartvickson are the authors of the Mister Lemur books, and the founders of the educational band “The Scheming Lemurs.” Hans and Jen met as undergraduates at Stanford and enjoy a shared passion for education. Jennifer holds a Master's in Education from Stanford and has traveled the country speaking to over 200,000 students at over 300 elementary schools in the last 4 years. Hans holds degrees in Economics and Public Policy from Stanford and an MBA from Wharton. He previously worked for an investment bank and a hedge fund before following his heart into writing education, and he is now the president of educational non-profit Kids Love Writing.

To Apply: Please submit your information at <http://www.aiwcamp.com/join-the-team/>.